FOREWORD

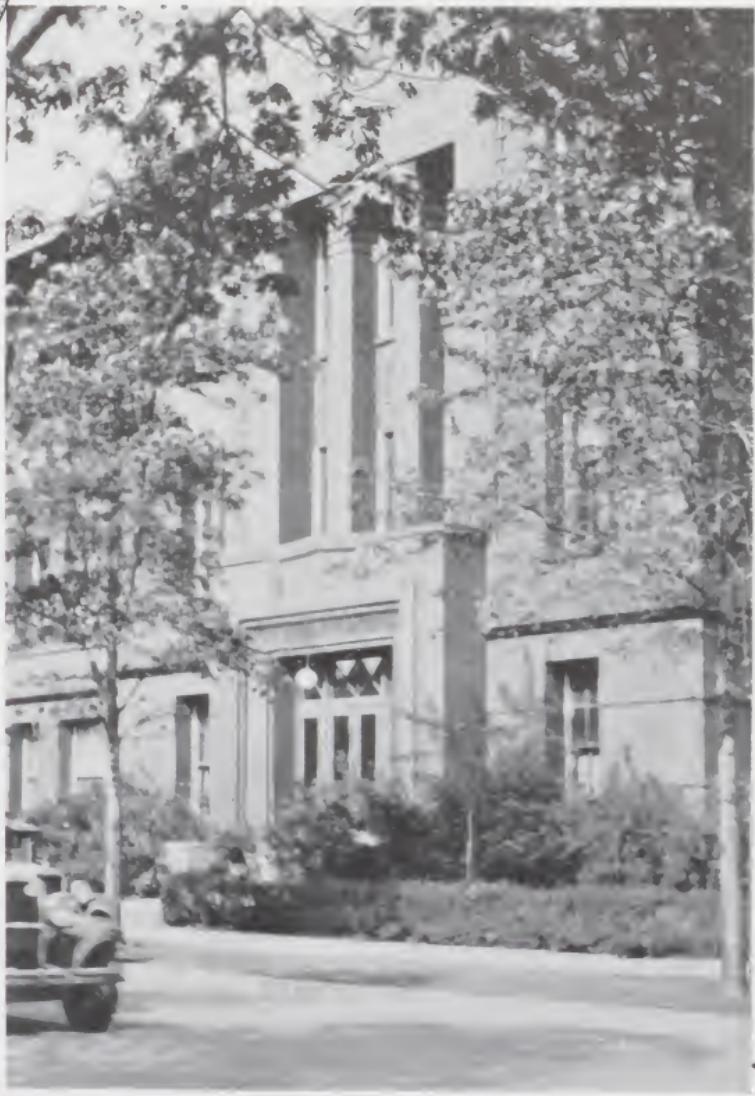

The solar system, like the school, is the organ through which radiates the life and activity of a portion of a whole. As the universe composes the whole of activity, thus may this REFLECTOR be as a firmament from which shines the life of Whiting High School.

DEDICATION

To Mr. Bernard J. Vesely, director of our Print Shops, who has greatly assisted us in making our annual a success; who through his association, his splendid cooperation and unfaltering service during his eleven years in our school, has been a vital force in helping to perpetuate the experiences of our school life,—do we, the Senior Class, dedicate this REFLECTOR of 1932.

are called together for the purpose of discussing professional matters of interest to all.

Whiting schools are fortunate in having such efficient members on the Board of Education. At the beginning of this school year, Mr. Salapski was chosen president; Dr. Bransky, treasurer; and Mr. Gambril, secretary. The great interest and untiring attention of these men have helped to place our school system among the best in Indiana.

Board of Education: O. E. Bransky, J. Ross Gambril, John Salapski.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. L. C. Grubb, our principal, came to Whiting High School in 1912 as a teacher of science. He received his bachelor degree from De Pauw University and has taken extended graduate courses at the Chicago and Indiana Universities. He is completing his twelfth year as principal, and during that time much progress has been made in our school.

In 1917, when Mr. Grubb first assumed his present position as principal, Whiting High had an enrollment of 250 students under the four year plan. Now, with a three year high school, the enrollment is 575.

Throughout the years that Mr. Grubb has been our very efficient leader, many new departments have been added to our school system, until now we have one of the finest high schools in Indiana. We have excelled not only in scholastic standing but in athletics, music, drama, and all extra-curricular activities as well. We are proud that these honors have been made possible through the help of Mr. Grubb, whose main interest is so completely centered with the student body.

A student council is organized every year in order to assist our principal in getting student opinions and helpful suggestions on the various subjects that are of interest to the student body. This council consists of the class presidents and two additional representatives from each class.

this organization in the Whiting schools, even within so short a time, indicates its value.

The Junior High consists of thirteen regular home room groups, and thirteen others which are given instruction in typewriting, domestic science and woodshop. Each home room teacher has charge of a club, and students are encouraged to participate in activities of their own selection.

Mr. E. L. Riordan, principal of the Junior High, was transferred from the science department of the high school to this position in 1924. Since that time, Mr. Riordan has accomplished much toward making the Junior High one of the finest schools in our system. It is with pride that we point to the achievement in this branch of our organization.

Junior High School Building

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Ground was broken for the Junior High School building in the spring of 1922, and by February, 1923, the first classes were in session. It was not until the fall of that year, however, that the entire building was open for school work. At first, the grades ranged from the fourth, up to and including the eighth. Later, in 1927, when the Primary building was built, the lower grades were removed to the McGregor building. This left the Junior High School building to the junior and senior high school students.

At the beginning of this year, the entire system was reorganized and the 9th grade was classified with the 7th and 8th grades, making the Junior High School unit as it generally accepted throughout the country. The success of

HEALTH AND ATTENDANCE

Miss Grace Lee, our school nurse, has been in charge of the City School Health Department for the past three years. She was graduated from St. Luke's hospital in Chicago and later served in the World War for nineteen months, as a Red Cross Nurse.

Our health department has proved to be a most important factor in our school system. The grade school children are examined regularly and, in many instances, serious diseases have been prevented because of the medical attention which every child is given.

Whiting school children have been very fortunate in receiving help from different organizations in the city. Funds have been provided, which take care of emergency relief cases of tonsil and adenoid operations, and furnish glasses for the children whose parents cannot afford these necessities. We are very thankful to these groups which, through our health department, have been very helpful both to school and to the unfortunate families in Whiting.

Our school census and attendance officer, Mrs. Hoskins, has been in our school for eleven years. Her very able work as truant officer plays an important part in keeping school attendance records free from excessive absences, thus helping to attain one more ideal.

Whiting High School is fortunate in having a very efficient and well qualified office staff. Miss Lucile Graf, an alumna of the class of '24, serves as secretary to Mr. Borden. Mrs. Campbell has held the position of secretary of the school board for eight years. Miss Helen Keckich, of the class of '29, acts as secretary to Mr. Grubb.

Office Staff: Mrs. Campbell, Miss Keckich, Miss Graf.

THE SENIOR CLASS

OFFICERS

Secretary	-	-	-	Thomas Moylan
Treasurer	-	-	-	Stanley Olszewski

When school opened in September 1928, 143 freshmen made a wild rush to Mr. Grubb's office, demanding the rights of the class of 1932. In order to function as a unit, the following officers were elected; Francis Fudenski, president; Clara Dalton, vice president; Edward Dansicak, secretary; and Henry Riffer, treasurer.

The class was most active in athletics during this first year. Catherine Ribovich, champion swimmer, was the first girl in the history of Whiting High School to receive a sweater. Freshmen representatives on the basketball, football, and baseball teams were Edward Dansicak, Steve Mihalso, and Walter Zimmerman.

Sophomore officers, the following year, were; Arvo Antilla, president; Steve Komper, vice president; Grace Thompson, secretary; and Walter Zimmerman, treasurer. The big event of 1930, as far as the class was concerned, was the Sophomore party which still remains a vivid memory.

The junior year was the most active in regard to activities. Emil Martich was elected president; Walter Zimmerman, vice president; Harriet Nash, secretary; and Joe Sanye, treasurer. Histrionic talent was shown in the presentation of "Cappy Ricks,"

Miss Shea a hilarious comedy. Juanita Zurcher, accomplished pianist, brought honors to the school and the class when she won the State Piano contest. Socially, the Junior Prom was the out-standing event of the school year.

Now, as Seniors, new honors have been bestowed upon the class. Again dramatic ability was displayed by "Her Friend the King." In other fields, Arvo Antilla was chosen All-Conference end in football; Florence Buerkholz and Clara Dalton each received their fourth Scholarship W.

Miss Shea, the sponsor, has served in that capacity for the last three years. The class expresses its appreciation of her loyal and untiring attention to the entire group.

"Fun and more fun," was the echo around town after the Juniors had credited themselves on the evening of April 29, with their performance of "Those Lovely Ladies." Mike Martich, Neil Brinker, James Judson, and Ted Kundrat in the roles of charming young ladies at a "society rush," proved to be the hit of the season.

Wilbur Boland, who played the part of young Danny Ashton, quite shy when alone with the girl he loves best, and Evelyn Shinn as a lively and likable young girl carried their leads in a finished manner. Steve Vrbancic, as Danny's father, gracefully lost his dignity periodically, all because of the lovely lady.

As impersonators, Mike Martich, Ted Kundrat, Neil Brinker and James Judson made ideal "girls" of the Ziegfeld chorus. Sherwood Langohr, Edward Kacer and Harriet Doll, added much to the interest of the show in the novel interpretations which they gave to their roles. Gay Rhoda Aronberg, portrayed an ideal maid. Ruth Zweig, as the stuttering Jerry, and Ruby Dellinger, of the lisping baby type, convinced the audience that Whiting High School has its share of dramatic ability.

THE SENIOR PLAY

"HER FRIEND THE KING" THE CAST

Georges	Thomas Moylan
Tornetta	Charles Pemberton
Scarlotta	Arvo Antilla
Count Churak	Emil Marlich
Princess Lydia	Kathryn Stewart
Miss Bridgerton	Barbara Horvat
Mrs. Alfred Hastings	Hazel Slemín
Prince Otto	Clemens Sidinski
Phelps	Alfred Cesar
Rosa	Lucy Plumchuck
Sophie	Margaret Walsko

"Her Friend the King," a smart modern comedy, was played to an appreciative audience at the school auditorium on January 30. The play was one of the most sophisticated of three-act-plays to be presented by a senior class of recent years.

Hazel Slemín, an American widow, and Thomas Moylan, her friend the king, carried their leads in a manner which demonstrated their fine ability. The juvenile leads were taken by Kathryn Stewart and Clem Sidinski, who kept the crowd amused throughout the play. Barbara Horvat, as the governess, set the audience in an uproar whenever she appeared. Other members of the cast gave excellent support.

The story is a most amusing one. Ex-King Georges and his daughter Lydia are in exile in Switzerland. He decides that she will marry Prince Otto of Hellenos. She refuses, but when they meet incognito, they fall in love with each other. Meanwhile Georges falls in love with Mrs. Hastings and when he is called back to the throne, he insists that she should share it with him.

MASQUE CLUB PRODUCTION

The second annual Masque Club production, given by the speech classes on December the twelfth, consisted of three one act plays instead of the customary long play.

The senior drama group pictured above contributed a historical costume play of the period of Louis XV, "The Little Father of the Wilderness," written by Austin Strong and Lloyd Oshourne.

THE THEATER BOARD

At the first of the year, a new organization was introduced to the high school—the Theater Board, which has already grown and developed to a point nearing perfection. The school has cause to be justly proud for sponsoring one of the very few successful organizations of this kind.

The credit for this enterprise goes to Mr. Turner and the members of his classes who have worked so diligently for a perfect system of cooperation, both between the departments and the individuals.

The Theater Board consists of a head director, with the chairman of the various departments forming the executive board under his guidance. Under the supervision of these chairman are able committeemen. The three divisions of the Executive Board are; the Department of Stage Managing, Department of Direction, and the Business Managing Department. Under the first division there are four committees, namely, the staging, property, electrical and scenic; under the department of direction are the play directors, prompting, make-up, and the librarians; the Business Managing Department consists of the business department, house department, publicity, typing, and secretarial departments.

One of the most interesting and the most active fields of this work is the student director phase. In this department the ones most interested in the work are chosen to study the basic principles of directing and producing plays. These students are given the opportunity to apply this knowledge whenever they are fully prepared to handle a cast. In this way opportunity is presented for the execution of original ideas.

THE MASQUE CLUB OFFICERS

President	-	-	-	Margaret Hartsell
Vice-President	-	-	-	Evlyn Shinn
Recording Secretary	-	-	-	Helen Haysack
Corresponding Secretary	-	-	-	Gertrude O'Neil
Treasurer	-	-	-	Helen Gehrke

The Masque Club completes its second year of existence with a most favorable record of accomplishments. Among its list of activities, are the Masque Club annual production consisting of three one-act plays, an additional play, "The Dangerous Experiment," the initiation party, the after-school social hour, the Christmas party, and the Leap-year frolic. These are events in which all students were invited to participate, but there has been much activity within the group about which the public may not be familiar. The club has worked hard to add to the department many permanent properties such as furniture, drapes, scenery, tools, costumes, make-up, books and stage materials as well as the overalls which are donned by the students whenever they set to work painting a new setting or arranging the stage.

Every student in the speech department is eligible for membership in the club, providing he comes to the first meeting of the semester. If he does not appear at this time he must arrange for his tryout along with the students outside the organization who are seeking membership. The club members vote on these candidates and decide their admittance. Once in the club, the student must be faithful to his duties or he may be disqualified for membership at third absence from meeting. The success of this club is attributed largely to its motto "You're either all for the club, or out of it."

Row I: G. Thompson, L. Growe, F. Snow, J. Kubacki, H. Helton, G. Schaaaf, C. Riordan, H. Zimmerman, M. Hruskovich, E. Biel, M. Bodak, M. Lawler.

Row II: C. Sidinski, M. Hartsell, A. Maloney, A. Greiger, E. Konya, I. Plumchuck, R. Harder, L. Plumchuck, H. Gehrke, G. Aronberg, R. Baumwhol, H. Doll.

Row III: B. Brown, M. Kaminsky, A. Cesar, E. Martich, G. O'Neil, L. Abercrombie, B. Horvat, W. Zimmerman, H. Slemin, E. Shinn, R. Zweig, C. Pemberton.

All of the Masque Club affairs are as successful as their stage productions and entertainments, thus giving the club a reputation for its good parties. The initiation exercise this year were held on Hallowe'en, and each initiate was brought before the group from the mouth of a huge pumpkin, assisted, generously enough, by the aid of a long board.

The other outstanding social event of the year was the spring leap-year frolic. The setting for this affair was the lawn directly off the vine-covered veranda of a rich old southerner's plantation. Japanese lanterns were in evidence and furnished the soft light to carry out the effect introduced by the strains of soft music coming from a far off corner.

Due to the condition of the times, the annual production was not all that was expected financially, so the club was compelled to take care of the deficit by other means. Candy sales and a matinee comedy, given by the Theater Board, served to accomplish this purpose.

The active membership at the close of the year for this outstanding organization totals sixty-seven. It is quite an inspiration to have such a group in the school as the example of loyalty, diligence and enthusiasm set forth by these students is a matter concerning which Whiting High School can well be proud.

PUBLIC SPEAKING AND DEBATE

The public speaking class, since the first semester, has been divided into two groups. The beginning class is made up of students taking this type of work for the first time, and the advanced class is composed only of upper classmen with experience in forensics. During the first semester, however, there was a deviation from the usual course limited to speech work, and the entire group showed dramatic ability in the one-act play, "The Pot Boilers". The students have also contributed much towards the Masque Club programs in the form of readings, poetry and original speeches.

The advanced public speaking class has touched on many phases of speech work. The first objective was debating, although their activities did not extend beyond class work. The question for high school debate this year was, Resolved: That the several states should adopt a system of compulsory unemployment insurance.

The highlight of the year's work was the oratorical contest of which six of the ten contestants chosen in the semi-finals were from the advanced public speaking class. The five selected from this group for the finals were Marian Stanton, Paul Haluska, Earl Will, Martha Broderson and Jessie Bonham.

The public speakers and debaters concluded the year with a speech festival, given for the purpose of acquainting the public with the students' abilities and accomplishments, as well as to raise money for the department. The students feel that the two-fold purpose was more than accomplished.

Both classes have shown improvement since this separation into two groups, and the revised system is hailed as a success. Next year, with the entire term ahead of them, members of the advanced class hope for a real debating team.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy.

THE BAND

Whiting has reason to be proud of its school band which has progressed so splendidly during the past year, under the direction of Mr. A. P. Lesinsky. The band has shown its true school spirit by performing at each of the football games. It has also done its part by entertaining the student body in the weekly assemblies. A concert, which was well received by music lovers of the region, was given in March.

Because of the band's outstanding improvement in playing, it was decided that the band should be sent to the state band contest at Evansville, Indiana. An enthusiastic group of mothers formed the Band Mothers Association and gave unlimited time and effort toward procuring the necessary funds for the trip.

The band is composed of the following members: Bb Clarinets: Neil Brinker, Eugene Gambril, Helen Haysack, Gladys Hess, John Holt, Gladys Lampman, Steve Masura, Thomas McFadden, Edward Pinkson, Irene Plumchuck, Marian Pritchard, Jean Smith, Albert Thwing, Evelyn Wright, Harlene Humphreys, Edson Rhea, Catherine Riordan, Georgine Schaaf, Melvin Shaefer, Harvey Foster, Henry Lovasko, Thomas Humphrey. Eb Clarinets: Richard Zweig, Lottie Zivich. Alto clarinet: James Judson, Andrew Kovacik. Bass clarinets: George Hipskind, Vincent James. Oboe: Virginia Gilberg, Virginia Stover. Bassoons: Andrew Hrubovcak, Lois Mackey. Piccolo: Ruth Keim, Shirley Gray. Flutes: Caroline Zimmerly, Florence Buerckholtz, C. THE ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. Lesinsky, has completed the most successful year of its history. There has been an increase in personnel, which has necessitated the purchase of new instruments. Seven string basses, several cellos, and violas were supplied by the school board, thus permitting the development of the orchestra to the fullest extent.

The first orchestra was organized in nineteen twenty-four and each year has shown development. The current year has marked the greatest change, however, with the increase from twenty-five, to forty-five members. With the added musicians, Mr. Lesinsky has been able to bring about a better balance, as well as a fine degree of instrumentation. Because of this, the orchestra was sent to Evansville along with the band, to bring home additional honors.

A great responsibility rests upon this organization. Besides furnishing the music for entertainment in assembly programs and assisting other clubs in the school, it is often called upon to participate in local projects. The orchestra is at least partially responsible for the success of the Washington Bi-Centennial programs.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club, directed by Mr. Calder, has grown to be an organization of eighty members. It meets twice each week and is divided into two sections which are combined for recital purposes.

A high grade of material, mostly in four parts, is selected for study. Particular attention is paid to good tone quality, enunciation, and articulation. The organization has won high acclaim for itself over the development of these qualities.

Through participation in the Lake County Music Festival at the Gary Memorial Auditorium on April 15, this glee club has come to be known as one of the best of its kind in Lake County. It was accorded, by the adjudicator, the highest honors of the twelve schools participating this year. Forty picked voices were used in the presentation of "Song from Ossian's Fingal," by Brahms. The number was most effectively rendered and the group was given special commendation for the sincerity of the interpretation of the selection.

In addition to the recognition for this fine work done in Gary, the club has won deserved popularity in the community. The Girls' Glee Club has been invited to appear on various public programs throughout the year, and each time has been well received.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club has proved to be one of the most progressive organizations in the school. The first choral society for boys appeared in nineteen twenty-eight, as an outgrowth of a male quartet which was made up of high school students. This year the club has a membership of fifty boys.

Mr. Calder has worked under most adverse conditions with this organization, in that it is divided into two groups, meeting at different times for rehearsals. Difficulty was experienced in welding the two groups together into a coherent whole. For this reason, the club found it impossible to participate in the Lake County High School Music Festival. Another difficulty that the club is attempting to surmount, is the fact that the tenor voices in a high school the size of Whiting are limited, and there is a tendency toward an over-powering bass section. Notwithstanding, the Boy's Glee Club has formed a sonorous and inspiring background to the mixed chorus. The mixed chorus, which is a combination of the girls' and boys' glee clubs meets once each week for practice.

It is hoped and anticipated that the boys organization will appear before the public next year.

THE MADRIGAL CLUB

The Whiting High School Madrigal Club is a music organization under the direction of Mr. Calder, music supervisor.

The present Madrigal Club consists of twelve girls and eight boys who have been picked from the best voices in school. It is an outgrowth of the Whiting High School Quintet which was entered in the Lake County Music Festival last year and which received so much acclaim from both adjudicator and audience.

Because of the success of this quintet, Mr. Calder organized a double quintet whose popularity was assured after several public appearances. With the re-opening of the regular school term in September, the newly-organized Madrigal Club was launched on its career.

Madrigals are love songs from the fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth centuries which involve painstaking work as regards enunciation and musical expression. Each individual part must stand alone, yet, together, they must blend perfectly in order that they may present a comprehensive rendition of the madrigal. These compositions are sung in the quaint and romantic manner of the "Age of Chivalry," during which they flourished.

This group has entertained at numerous public affairs in the community. The club appeared in the Music Festival with "Come Away, Death," in five parts, by R. Vaughan-Williams. The words are from Shakespeare's drama "Twelfth Night." In spite of the difficulty of the selection, the highest praise was accorded the organization for their masterful rendition of what is considered the most difficult and greatest form of choral singing.

As a result of their hard work in mastering the fundamentals of madrigal singing and the time spent on them, the members have been rewarded with many compliments from both individuals and organizations. It is the ambition of the group to continue this phase of choral work, and to include Madrigals from France and Italy, as well as those from England, in their repertoire.

The official publication of Whiting High School is the Tattler. This six page, three column paper is published bi-monthly, and the staff has worked diligently to attain a standard of technical perfection, as well as to echo the true spirit of Whiting High School.

The staff is selected from the journalism class. A program of rotating staffs, in which each member has an opportunity to fill at least one of the major positions, provides the entire group with variety in experience.

In former years the Tattler was strictly a high school paper. This year, however, the staff has devoted a page of each issue to the junior high and grade schools. This is handled by the junior high Journalism Club, through a staff member. This project has proved its worth in promoting a feeling of interest and understanding between the schools.

During the second semester, a new plan was inaugurated in regard to Tattler distribution. Since the publication of the paper would continue throughout the year, instead of being stopped when the Reflector work was taken to the printshop, it was decided that each student should receive his paper free of charge.

The class of 1932 realized at the beginning of the year, that in order to publish this edition of the Reflector, with the prevailing economic depression of the times, the assistance of each member of the class must be solicited. With Mr. Applegarth as advisor of the advertising department and Miss Shea heading the business managing group, the campaign was on its way. Within a very short time the goal for advertising was reached and passed, and the students had subscribed to the book, almost one hundred percent. The staff, which was chosen by a committee of teachers, felt assured of the cooperation of the entire school and redoubled its efforts to make up in quality for what the book may lack in quantity.

For the first time, the journalism department has space of its own. A room on the first floor was converted into a veritable newspaper office with desks, paper and magazine stands, a typewriter and filing cases. The staff has spent many long hours in planning, compiling and editing this book, and has had ample opportunity to thoroughly enjoy the conveniences of these surroundings and the atmosphere conducive to work.

THE PRINT SHOP

The Whiting High School printshop under the supervision of Mr. Vesely, is one of the most active departments in the school. All the responsibility of the printing of programs, tickets, office forms, posters and notices, besides the Tattler and the Reflector, which are printed regularly, is placed upon Mr. Vesely and this group of students. A visitor in this section of the building could not help but be impressed by the expediency and dispatch with which this work is turned out. The boys are divided into groups, each one of which has its own specified duties. As many as ten different jobs are being carried on at the same time.

Equipment in the printshop consists of two motor driven presses, one small hand press, a paper cutter, stapling machine, and a proof press. When the department was first established eleven years ago, it could boast of only one small press. At that time there was only an enrollment of thirty students as compared with the seventy-eight of today.

This Reflector of 1932 marks the fourth yearbook published in the printshop. Until 1931 it was the custom to publish the high school annual only in alternate years. From that time forward, however, the department has been so organized as to permit the printing of the book each spring. The senior class of 1932 expresses its appreciation to the printshop, in helping them to make possible this Reflector.

THE ART CLASS

The Art Class, under the direction of Miss Stewart, meets regularly every day in the special art room. Although each year has seen an increase in size of the organization, the enrollment of thirty-six for the current year has broken all previous records.

Much of the work throughout the year has consisted of making posters for three contests. The first was the Business and Professional Woman's National Poster Contest, in which Andrew Hrubovcak won honorable mention. The second and third were the Washington Bicentennial Poster Contest, a local contest, and the State Poster Contest.

In the Washington Bicentennial Contest the following students placed: Juanita Boyer, Clayton, James, Edith Matis, Andrew Hrubovcak, and Margaret Ann Horvey. Honorable mention was given to Irene Durick, Hermina Kundrat, Joseph Hicko, Florence Dahlke and William Vasilko.

The students whose posters were entered in the State High School Contest were: Hermina Kundrat, Marguerite Moser, Irene Durick and William Vasilko. Besides these contests the art class has made posters for several of the organizations in the city and for all school activities.

The handicraft work has included leather, silver and costume jewelry. The color work has been in pencil, pen and ink, crayon and water color. At Christmas time the group made greeting cards with original block prints and etchings. Along this line, the artists became greatly interested in sketching story illustrations and in supplying cuts for the Tattler, as well as in taking the complete responsibility for all art work in the Reflector. The senior class greatly appreciates the cooperation and assistance of the art class.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll is the international honor society for high school journalists, which was organized for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism. There are twelve thousand young journalists from schools which are outstanding in the quality of their publication work, who wear the badge of the society.

The society promotes research and conducts surveys in the field of high school journalism, in order to determine the types of publication best suited to high schools and to standardize instruction in this field. The national organization does not make any requirements as to the activities of the society. Whiting High School's chapter of Quill and Scroll does not have a formal organization, but devotes its entire time to regular journalistic work. Members of the organization deem themselves worthy of wearing the emblem of the Quill and Scroll by their efforts to produce outstanding work in the art of writing.

According to the constitution, members of Quill and Scroll must be chosen from the students enrolled in the high school, who, at the time of this election, meet the following requirements: (1) They must be of at least junior standing. (2) They must be in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing. (3) They must have done superior work in some phase of journalistic endeavor. (4) They must be recommended by the supervisor. (5) They must be approved by the national secretary.

The membership of this chapter of Quill and Scroll numbers nine this year. Since its organization in our school in 1929, Whiting High School boasts of twenty-nine Quill and Scroll members.

THE LATIN CLUB

"Deo, amicus, patriae,"—"for God, for friends, and for country," is the motto which characterizes the ideals of the members of the Latin Club. "Romanus Senatus" is the name which is applied to this club. Membership in this organization consists of second and third year students studying the language of ancient Rome.

The Latin Club sponsored by Miss Wilhelm holds one meeting every three weeks, and each group studying Latin has its own organization. There are two consuls and a quaester in each club. The consuls alternate in the duty of presiding over the meetings. The quaester corresponds to the keeper of minutes and roll. Each student has a chance to perform at the program at least once during the year, and each one answers roll call by a name or sentence pertaining in some way to Roman history.

In the period four class Catherine Feeney and Thomas McFadden take turns at being consuls; Nora Sullivan is quaestor. In period three, James Judson and Martha Buckvich are the consuls, and Vincent Harmon is quaestor. Ruth Owen and Charles Runick are the chief officers of the period eight class of which Jack Kidney is quaestor. Due to the limited number of students in the Virgil class, each member takes a turn at presiding over the Latin Club.

The Latin Club personnel has charge of a high school assembly program each year. In the program of the current year the student body thoroughly enjoyed the appropriate characterizations of the months of the year. The members were also hosts at a delightful Valentine social hour which was held after school in the girls' gym.

Le Cercle Francais was first organized two years ago under the supervision of Miss Hall, teacher of French. Since that time the club has grown remarkably in size, and has developed greatly in scope. The students who gained membership in the club are most enthusiastic concerning its activities and work diligently on whatever project may be before them.

The purpose of the club is to give its members a better understanding of the French language, with the consequent acquisition of the ability to speak it more fluently, thus arousing greater interest in the subject. To become a member, the student must be enrolled in a French class, and must show an interest in the language.

Among the various enterprises that were undertaken by this organization, was the sponsoring of candy sales at school dances, for the purpose of raising funds for social activities. The group was most successful in this venture.

Meetings are held on alternate Mondays, and interesting programs are invariably arranged by a committee in charge of the entertainment. These programs are all conducted in an appropriate manner, inasmuch as the members speak French throughout the entire session. Each member is grateful for the opportunities which the club affords in the way of enabling him to become better acquainted with French people, customs, and in the country itself.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Applegarth, the Science Club meets on alternate Fridays to discuss matters pertaining to the field of science. This club may be considered as an honor organization, since the membership qualifications require that each candidate have an average of eighty-eight or above as a grade in science.

The club is organized to promote interest in science, to stimulate the desire for superior scholastic achievement, and to offer an opportunity for experimentation. The organization covers three distinctive branches of science; radio, chemistry, and photography. Each student designates which field has his interest, and carries on this work throughout the school year. Experiments and reports are given by the members in each of the three divisions. The meetings are concerned, chiefly, with demonstrations, experiments, reports and tests. The club personnel takes pride in conducting interesting trips, either out of doors or through some industrial plant.

Members of the club further enjoy making charts to show the structure and development of manufactured articles. Some of these charts deal with cellophane, cattle, leather, and oil refineries.

The club added its contribution to the school activities by giving a most interesting assembly program. Robert Saunders, presided, and short talks were given by Margaret Price, Kenneth Malick, Wilma Pemberton, and James Comstock. Paul Haluska, accompanied by Gene Melvin, added variety to the hour by giving a musical reading.

THE BIOLOGY CLUB OFFICERS

President	John Kometz
Vice President	Laurence Hansen
Secretary	Helen Haysack
Treasurer	Frank Yasek

"A study of living things" is the definition that is applied to the term "biology." The Biology Club, therefore, is a club whose purpose is to find out the facts concerning the structure, characteristics, and habits of anything that has to do with organic substances.

The Biology Club was first organized during the 1930-31 school year under the supervision of Miss E. Whitton, teacher of biology. During the first year of the club, the qualification for membership was a grade of C or above in the subject.

The club meets on alternate Wednesdays in the biology laboratory. After dispensing with matters of business, the various members address the group on topics of interest to all. Reports and slides on insects, flowers, animals, plants, birds, minerals, and human beings help to provide incentive for more intensive study.

The biology enthusiasts frequently arise at five o'clock in the morning in order to go exploring in the woods and parks. Many novel specimens are found in this way, which serve as subjects for observation and study when carried back to the laboratory.

From the interest in these matters as evidenced by the group, it may be supposed that many of the world's leading biologists of the future are beginning their training in the laboratory of Whiting High School.

THE PATROL CLUB

Patrol boys can be seen on duty at street intersections at all times. Rain, snow and sleet do not keep these students away from their job of directing traffic around the school to help schoolmates. Twenty-one boys of the junior and senior classes are selected each year by Mr. Appiegarth, faculty advisor, to carry on this work.

The officers of this organization are elected for one semester. The first semester officers were as follows: Robert Dillon, captain; Joe Tapajna and Oscar Gardner, lieutenants. The members of the senior class in the patrol are Fred Kelley, Robert Dillon, Joe Tapajna, Morris Johnson, Oscar Gardner, Harper Hood, Joe Seman, Andrew Trgovich, John Marcisz, George Mantich, Leon Gardner, John Janos and George Kabaczy.

Gate-crashers and fence climbers had difficulty in avoiding the ticket box at football and baseball games because of the good work of the patrol boys and the crowds at basketball games were handled most effectively. The boys also serve in the capacity of ushers at school plays or at public shows. A patrol boy is glad to give his assistance at any civic function. In recognition of excellent service, the Parent Teacher Association has furnished the group with raincoats.

An April Fool dance was sponsored by the boys to raise funds for obtaining letters for the honor members. The dance was a real success and the student body enjoyed participating in this event.

THE MONITORS

The Hall Monitor system, which provides for a record of persons leaving and entering the building, was given a trial at Whiting High School late last year under the sponsorship of Mr. Applegarth. It has proved so successful, even in this short period, that it is being continued.

The Hall Monitors are made up of honor roll students who apply for the positions by placing their applications in the principal's office. The positions are distributed first among the seniors, and the honored juniors fill the remaining vacancies. Honor roll students are selected for these places, since it is necessary for them to devote at least one period each day to their posts, and they can best spare the time from their work.

There are three monitors on duty at all times throughout the day, one at each entrance of the building. The monitors offer assistance to strangers, giving them any information they might desire, and in the case of a visitor they show him about the school, pointing out the various departments. A student leaving the building must have a slip signed by the principal or one of the teachers, in order to pass the monitors. In entering the building during school, he must indicate permission to do so in the same manner. Classes coming from the other building are kept in order in the outer hall until the bell rings. In this manner, confusion resulting from large groups entering the building, is minimized.

SCHOLARSHIP W CLUB

The Scholarship W Club is one of the oldest and most renowned organizations of Whiting High School. It was first organized in 1912, and, since that time, the membership has increased greatly with the enlargement of the school.

The purpose of this club is to encourage students to attain a higher scholastic average. In order to become a member, a student must receive an average of ninety, with no grade below eighty-five, for one school year. This membership, however, is not revoked if a student does not meet these requirements the following year.

The various emblems of this organization differ according to the number of W's earned by the student. The W awarded for the first year is green with a white background; the second is a white W with green background; and the third year W is the same as the first, with the exception of green binding on the white background; the fourth W is like the second, with the green background edged in white. A student who receives four scholarship W's is awarded a gold W on his diploma.

Two members, Clara Dalton and Florence Buerckholz, should be given special mention. These girls are both seniors who have received three W's, and will be given their fourth ones this year.

This organization serves as an incentive to the students as it gives them eligibility for the scholarships offered by colleges and universities.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is one of the nation-wide groups which was organized for the purpose of giving recognition to those students who have shown themselves capable, deserving of scholastic merit. This organization was first introduced into our high school two years ago, although the society has had chapters in many of the other leading high schools throughout the country, for several years.

The parent organization, found in colleges and universities, is the Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholarship society. In like manner, the National Honor Society symbolizes commendable character, estimable leadership, and service to all. Its aim is to further and better these ideals.

Members of this organization are selected by the entire faculty as a group. Names of students, eligible because of their scholastic average, are selected by a committee of teachers. All teachers then vote for those whom they believe to be most worthy of this honor, because of attitude, service and general conduct.

Because of the honor bestowed by membership in this society, the requirements set up are very high, and many phases of school life are taken into consideration. The first qualification states that the student be in the upper quarter of the senior class in scholastic achievement. The other qualities for admittance are: leadership in school life, a commendable character, and service for the honor of the school.

This year fifteen members of the senior class were selected as deserving recognition for outstanding work and service.

FOOTBALL

Barring one disastrous game with East Chicago, Whiting High School's 1932 football season will go down in history as one of the most successful the school has ever known. The Oilers started hesitantly, but shortly after the Washington game the boys gained self assurance and nothing could stop them.

Coach Gallivan deserves a great deal of credit for the hard work and effort he put forth to build up this winning team. He anticipates progressively better years, and hopes to have started an era of great football teams in Whiting High School.

Led by Captain Zimmerman, who with Steve Mihalos holds the distinction of having earned four football letters, the Oilers completed the season with the strongest record of any school in the district.

Arvo Antilla was chosen on the conference team as an end, and Mike Fowdy was given honorable mention in the all-state selections. Those who earned letters are—Antilla, Avery, Hicko, Mullaney, Maclusak, Gambini, Walsko, Martich, Kovachick, Fowdy, Mihalos, Emken, Pawlus, Martich, and Dancisak. Paul Walsko, who was chosen to lead the team next year, hopes to see the team pick up where they finished this year, and continue to bring honor to Whiting High School.

BASKETBALL

Basketball, the king of sports in Whiting, and coached by Mr. Orsborn, continues to hold the interest and support of the fans. The Community House gymnasium was the scene of much activity on the evenings of the home games.

The fight that the Oilers administered to Emerson, the sectional champions in the tournament, made up partially for the mediocre seasonal record. The fighting Oilers trailed the strong Gary team by a basket until the final few minutes of the game, when, in a desperate attempt to tie the score, Whiting's defense cracked and the Norsemen drew up ahead.

Whiting was handicapped throughout the season because of illness and injuries. On the occasions when everyone was well and in action, the Oilers were capable of upsetting the strongest teams. They proved this fact against Washington High School.

Those who earned letters were: Captain Bruce Avery, Sherwood Langohr, Emil Benko, Harry Gambini, Mike Kanocz, Walter Zimmerman, Mike Fowdy, Edward Dancisak, Francis Fudenski, Robert Dillon, Vincent Oliver, Steve Fowdy and Eugene Gambril.

BASEBALL

Whiting has always been a leader in baseball, and last season's record proved no exception to this rule. Although the Oilers did not win the conference, they did win a good percentage of the games.

With Joe Paunicka doing most of the pitching, Whiting managed to give everyone a good battle. Edward Dancisak, captain of this year's team and one of the most consistent hitters on the squad, was injured and unable to play; a fact which accounts for at least several of the losses.

This year Whiting has a six conference game schedule and hopes to win all six of the games. They will play Washington, Hammond and Valparaiso, twice.

Those who will be playing again for Whiting this year are Paunicka, Captain Dancicak, Chovanic, Fowdy, Langhor, and Slacinin. In addition to these boys, Coach Gallivan has many new prospects.

TENNIS

Coach Orsborn is responsible for the great interest Whiting High School has taken in tennis. He has collected together a team that should win the conference championship this year.

Last year was only a beginning, but an excellent one. The boys who earned letters in tennis last year were Charles Fudenski, George Grossman, Elbert Smith and Francis Fudenski.

Francis Fudenski was the only junior to make his letter in tennis and Coach Orsborn expects him to win the number two matches this year. William Feeney, Leon Gardner, Oscar Gardner and Gilbert Behrens make up the rest of the team who anticipate winning the conference trophy.

SWIMMING

The 1932 swimming record for Whiting has but one rival, and that is the season when Joe Brock and Company won the state title. The Oiler tank men won six of their ten meets, won the Conference championship, and placed third in the state meet.

With Ehlers, Antilla, George and Green to depend on for sure points, Whiting was always in "the swim," and with Oliver, Tuscan, Love, Nagy, Wilson, Slacinin and Straker to provide the margin of victory, the Oilers were able to win the majority of their meets. Under the tutelage of Coach Parmenter, Whiting was able to score twenty-six points to bring honor and the conference championship to Whiting High School.

Down state the Oilers put forth every effort, but a rejuvenated South Bend team led by Captain Noble, captured the state title. Whiting finished one point behind Bloomington who took second with fifteen points. Throughout the meet there was a fine quality of sportsmanship displayed, and Whiting High students are proud to have been so well represented.

ATHLETIC BOARD OFFICERS

President	Arvo Antilla
Vice President	Virginia Gilberg
Secretary	Harriet Nash
Treasurer	Thomas Moylan

The Athletic Board is one of the most important organizations in Whiting High School. Each year a list of nominees is submitted to the students, and they vote for whomever they believe capable of holding an office on this board. It is the only group that is elected by the entire student body, and therefore is always representative of the entire school.

The purpose of the board is to cultivate a cooperative spirit among the students and the faculty advisers in dealing with finances, and determining policies concerning athletics. Student members are free to voice their opinions and suggestions on various questions brought up at these meetings, which are held only when decisions on important matters are necessitated.

Besides the student officers of this board, two executives are also elected by the student body, and four members are appointed by Mr. Grubb, to represent the faculty. These members all work together in planning pep meetings, athletic functions, budgets, athletic equipment, as well as many other matters which concern school athletics.

Each year the Athletic Board gives a dance in order to raise funds for the athletic department. This year a "Depression Dance" was given which proved to be one of the most successful parties of the year. The girls' gym was appropriately decorated with newspapers. Prizes were awarded to Jean Smith, Alberta Grieger, Louis Barton and John Roman for the funniest costumes.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC CLUB

The Girls' Athletic Club, organized for the purpose of promoting interest in health and athletics, has accomplished much in that direction under the sponsorship of Miss Imbs.

To qualify for membership in this group one must secure at least one hundred and twenty-five points by participating in the interclass of hockey, basketball, baseball, track, tennis and volley ball. Points are also obtained by keeping a thirty day health record chart, and by taking part in the swimming events. Hiking is a further means by which added points may be earned.

After becoming a member of the G. A. C. it is necessary to turn one's attention toward winning higher athletic honors. W's are awarded to those who earn six hundred points in events; pins are given to members who by hard work secure twelve hundred points; anyone getting eighteen hundred points receives a well-deserved award, a gold medal.

One of the main activities of the club is the staging of the annual Water Carnival which is held at the Community Center swimming pool. It was a most successful venture this year, as was evidenced by the applauding audience that filled the balcony and lower floor. The inter-class tournaments add interesting features to the club's calendar of activities.

GIRLS' SWIMMING TEAM

Coached by Miss Jean Imbs, who seems to have a hobby of turning out champion swimming teams, the Whiting girls have reached a height of success attained by few athletic teams.

The girl swimmers have just completed their fourth successive year of competition, undefeated and untied. They have, in addition, become holders of all existing swimming records for girls in Indiana, having splashed their way to the state title in 1929 and again in 1930. There were no state meets held in 1931 and 1932.

Daisy Nejdl 30' holds the 40 and 100 yard freestyle records; Doris Jane Green 30' is possessor of the breaststroke title; Ruth Sheetz 30' has the honors in diving, and Catherine Ribovich 32' is the back-stroke champion, besides having won the 20 yard crawl stroke.

The following is a summary of the points scored by the team and its opponents during the past four years.

	Whiting	Opponents
1929	172 points	57 points
1930	97 points	21 points
1931	173 points	99 points
1932	219 points	81 points

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Whiting High School possesses a most athletic group of girls of whom they may well be proud, among the seniors. These girls, after having won honors in basketball and swimming, set themselves enthusiastically to walk away with the basketball title.

For the spectators, who lined the girls' gym with the intention of witnessing an interclass basketball tournament, there was in addition, a first class exhibition on how cooperation among players produce winning teams. Lucille Gilman and Lorraine Adley made a fine display in the technique of making baskets. Francis Snow and Margaret Lesko personified excellence in their positions as jumping and running contest. Catherine Ribovich and Margaret Gima both played games at guard position.

The seniors defeated the juniors by the overwhelming score of fifty to five. Although the juniors fought valiantly and played a fine game, they were at no time during the afternoon able to acquire the lead or to even cause their opponents any alarm.

In the other games of the tournament competition was much keener. The seniors won by a 19 to 13 score from the sophomores while the juniors edged the freshmen out by a close 12 to 14 score. Throughout all the games, an excellent spirit of fine sportsmanship was evidenced, as well as a proper understanding of the game.

GIRLS' BASEBALL

When Miss Imbs issued a call for baseball tryouts last spring, over forty girls responded, donning suits and selecting bats and balls. The candidates put forth their best efforts, and as a result many of them were awarded positions on the class teams.

The four teams finally selected, representing the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, practiced twice weekly until tournament time arrived. Last year's juniors, who represent the class of 1932, proved themselves the winners in this all-American game. The first game in the tournament was taken by the seniors, who scored twelve runs to their opponents five. The final game rounding up the series was played between the seniors of this year and those of last year, with the former winning by running up a thirty-two to six lead over the latter.

The games were all hard fought battles and were all fairly won and good-naturedly lost; thus insuring a place for baseball in the high school sport selection. In addition to displaying excellent baseball ability, the girls proved their understanding of good sportsmanship.

The Adley-Snow combination served as batteries for the winning team while Gilman, played the position of first baseman; Hajduk, second baseman; Lesko, third baseman; Kubacki, left short-stop; Ribovich, right short-stop; Gima and Dellinger were fielders.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

Hockey, a comparatively new addition to the list of interclass competitive sports, has proved a favorite game with the athletically inclined members of the gym department.

The game is played by two opposing teams which consist of eleven players each. To score a goal the ball must pass over the goal line between the goal posts, and while it is within the circle, must have been touched by the stick of an opponent.

At the start of the game the ball is at the center and two players, one from either side taps the ground first on her own side of the ball. She then strikes her opponents three times alternately, after which one of these two players must strike the ball before it is in general play. Each side then endeavors by means of striking, passing, and dribbling, to drive the ball into the opponent's goal. The ball may be stopped but may not be picked up, carried, thrown, kicked, or knocked, except with the hockey stick. Hooking of sticks is permissible within striking distance of the ball. The essential requisites of a good player are a good eye, strong wrists, footwork, pace and ball control. Speed in playing is a charm of the game.

In the interclass tournament, the Seniors humbled the Juniors by a 40-20 score. The Sophomores in turn handed the Freshmen a 14-18 defeat. In the final game of the series, the Sophomores proved themselves superior in hockey ability by winning from the Seniors by a 12-10 score.
